

Proudfoot: Your partner in...

Distribution and Logistics

What if you could...

- Increase your productivity by developing supervisor controls and disciplines which foster rapid communication to solve equipment failures.
- Radically reduce your product cost when faced with increasing competition through:
 - Reducing material consumption and direct cost
 - Minimizing non-productive time and variances
 - Shortening setup times and frequencies
 - Simplifying and standardizing processes across your value chain
 - Ensure ownership of all key processes
- Drive energy consumption down while increasing throughput at a major distribution center through active management and visual control boards?
- Right-size your asset fleets through re-zoning and re-scheduling of your routes and upgrading your production planning and delivery systems?
- Free-up support resources to enable product growth by deploying more efficient field scheduling and forecasting systems backed by active management techniques.
